

Linda Walters, Ph.D., Director, Center for Success of Women Faculty, and Professor, Biology, University of Central Florida. Dr. Walters has been the Director of UCF's Center for Success of Women faculty for five years. Her research focuses on coastal issues, including community-based oyster reef restoration, living shoreline stabilization, and invasive species.